

Scheduling time in the Lang Lab

This information is for ML4AI researchers conducting human subjects data collection in the Lang Lab.

As of 2024-08-30, we need to schedule time in the lab in advance. Other researchers will not use the large room with our equipment, but the Norton School folks want to avoid having several subjects for different studies or noise from different data collection protocols at the same time. They also need to document the use of the lab space.

Use this link to schedule time in the lab. Be sure to select the Lang Lab Room 215D - Large Group Observational Room room. Let Adarsh know if you run into any issues.
